HERE AND THERE.

J. H. Winfree & Co., McCormick Machines and Plows

W. F. Patton, Life Insurance.

The roads are improving.

New goods are coming in.

Prepare to begin gardening.

The telephone wires are nearly all up.

The Bridge St. ice factory is now making ice.

Coup's circus is coming. It will be here April 21.

Hogs claim the streets of Hopkinsville as their own.

The Public Schools now open at 8:30 o'clock instead of 9.

The quarterly examinations are in progress at the Public Schools.

School children are beginning to count the weeks till school is out.

Jas. Crowder, of Henderson, was received into the insane asylum here last week.

Sheriff Bozarth, of Owensboro, came over Saturday to bring an insane woman to the asylum.

Hon. Jas. A. McKee has succeeded in having Hopkinsville placed upon the list of international money order offices.

Messrs. Forbes & Gant have run the chimney tops of their mill several feet higher, to keep sparks from falling on the roof.

The State Baptist Association will meet in this city May 23d. About 300 members are expected to attend. The Association will continue in session for four or five days.

Messrs. W. F. Gray, A. M. Robertson and Albert Doon, of Smithland were in the city Saturday. They came to bring a luncheon to the asylum.

Prof. J. B. Fitzhugh, formerly of this county, is working up this section in the interest of the Matrimonial Mutual Benefit Association of Mobile, Ala.

The last pow-wow of the Republican campaign was held at the Court House Friday night. The meeting was an excited and heated one and the Ho was passed several times by the speakers.

The railroad company has put up a handsome signal lantern on the depot. It is arranged so either a red or white light can be turned on by a lever. A signal board for the day time is also attached.

Hon. James Breathitt, whose name is more familiar to the State now than it was a few weeks ago, in consequence of his resolution for an investigation into the Governor's pardoning record, is a grand-nephew of Governor Breathitt, deceased, of Logan county.—Herald-Enterprise.

Mr. N. L. Cavanaugh has sold his grocery store on Court St. to Messrs. S. A. Vance of this city, and H. B. Killbuck, late of Lafayette. Mr. Nance is well known in this city, having been in charge of Mr. Cavanaugh's business for the last two years. Mr. Killbuck is a courteous, affable gentleman and the new firm will doubtless merit and command a large and increasing patronage.

We were awakened from our slumbers about daylight one morning last week by some one "knocking at our chamber door." We got up and found it to be a man who had come all the way from Tennessee to subscribe for the South Kentuckian and wanted to do so in this town on the early train. It seems we can't sleep at night without being called up to write subscription receipts, but we will try to bear it without murmuring.

A warrant was gotten out last week for the arrest of Jno. Dennis, the engineer on the train that killed the Orendorf woman Sunday March 20. Dennis heard of it and came to the city Thursday and gave himself up to answer to a charge of murder. His trial was set for some time this week. The case will amount to nothing, as the girl was entirely to blame and had been warned to keep off the bridge, and besides Dennis made every effort in his power to stop the train.

The Governor has pardoned Jno. P. Bell, who was fined $25 and ten days imprisonment for carrying concealed deadly weapons on the night he was assaulted by Alex. Pool and his friends and was forced to kill Pool in self-defense. He was honorably acquitted of the charge of murder last February. Gov. Blackburn did the proper thing in granting Mr. Bell a pardon, as his petition was signed by the best citizens of the county, and he is a young gentleman in every way worthy of executive clemency.

The Board of Trustees of the Public Schools has been increased from five to seven and E. M. Flack and Joe McCarroll added. They will be divided into three classes the first class having two, the second two, and the third three. The classes will be settled by lot and class one will be elected in May 1883 and the elections will take place annually thereafter in regular rotation. The present rooms have been found inadequate to accommodate all the pupils, and two more rooms on the third floor will be fitted up and two additional teachers employed, making eleven. To do this slight increase in the revenue will be necessary, but this, according to the law, cannot exceed 50 cents on $100. Applicants for the positions of teachers will be examined at the School Building Friday and Saturday, May 5, and 6.

Saddling racks is now the order of the day.

Farmers are busy plowing, this fine weather.

Eight couples of young people went out to Mr. Ned Campbell's last Thursday evening and spent a most enjoyable evening. The party consisted of the following young ladies and gentlemen: H. H. Abernathy and Miss Susie Edmunds; Billy Waller and Miss Lizzie Gish; Bryan Hopper and Miss Ada Trice; Ben Thompson and Miss Mamie Barnes; Jas. T. Gant and Miss Mattie Hickman; J. W. Downer and Miss Mollie Petree; F. W. Dabney and Miss Mattie Petree and Jno. G. Ellis and Miss Mary Howard.

A negro buck walked into the ladies' waiting room at the depot Saturday and took his seat in a few feet of several ladies who were in the room and proceeded to take off his shoe and arrange the heel of his sock. A special policeman was appointed to attend to the depot and keep negroes off the platform and out of the ladies' waiting room, but he does about as much good as a knot on a log would. Such a state of affairs is absolutely disgraceful and in the name of the people of Hopkinsville we call upon the Board of Councilmen to appoint an efficient policeman to protect to rights and interests of the traveling public. We regret very much to be forced to speak of this subject so often, but the necessities of the case demand it, and unless there is a change we intend to speak in still plainer terms and let the public know whose fault it is.

The Great Show Coming.

W. C. Coup's new united show and great World's Fair for the season of 1882 will exhibit in Hopkinsville on Friday April 21st, giving two performances. It is larger than ever before and is full of new features never before exhibited. Look for big advertisement next week.

In an interview with W. C. Coup the great showman, and man of new ideas published in the New York Times Mr. Coup says:

"I have introduced more progressive and original ideas, and more actual novelties in the show business than any other person who ever engaged in it. It has always been my policy to change the leading features of my establishment every year. By doing so, I am enabled to give my patrons an entirely new set of attractions every season. In order to do this, I always sail, during the winter, all of the old attractions to other shows, and replace them with new. In this way, I have a new show every season, while other shows have only worn out, cast-off and second-hand attractions to exhibit. I have purchased this season, for the first time, a complete set of the most genuine novelties from all the combined shows of the country together. As regards expenses, my salary list alone, last year, was much in excess of the entire gross receipts of some of the most pretentious shows in the country. This season it is larger still, and it costs more to run my establishment than it does to run any show now traveling. These are indisputable facts, and I challenge anyone to refute them.

I Did It With My Little Hatchet."

Bill Woodruff, col., was knocked on the head Saturday by John Brown (father of Brown who was killed by Major). It seems that Joe Woodruff, col., occupied Brown's house, and failing to pay the rent Brown went to the house to put him out.

Ladies of the Leaf.

The "Ladies of the Leaf," Literary Society, gave a public entertainment at South Kentucky College Friday evening. The chapel hall was filled to its utmost capacity, by a refined and well-behaved audience. The exercises were opened by a short address of welcome by Miss Susie Stiles, the President of the Society, after which the following programme was carried out:

Reading, The Modern Widow, by Miss Ella Pratt.

Music, by Miss Ella Greenwood.

Recitation, The Conquered Banner, by Miss Ella Daniel.

Essay, The Nobility of Labor, by Miss Ella Campbell.

Music and song, by Misses McDuff and Cave.

Recitation, Last Year's Dresses, by Miss Cammie Martin.

Music, by Miss Carrie Dabney.

Essay, Woman, Miss Esther Faxon.

Song, by Miss George Bush.

Reading, Betsey and I are Out, Miss Stella Vaughn.

Music, Miss Lula Richards.

Recitation, "Angels of Beulah Vista," Miss Fannie Coleman.

Song, Miss Susie Edmunds.

Paper, read by Misses Anita Langstroth and Maudie Johnson.

All of the young ladies acquitted themselves creditably. Some of the local hits in the paper were quiet good and evoked applause from the audience. Every thing passed off in an orderly and pleasant manner and the entertainment was a decided success.

Fire at Pembroke.

The general merchandise store of Gill H. Smith, Pembroke, Ky., was consumed by fire early Sunday morning.

The fire was discovered about 4 o'clock and had gained such headway that nothing whatever could be saved. We have not been apprised of the amount of the loss, but understand the store and stock was covered by $3,000 insurance. The store nearest the fire was badly scorched and was saved with difficulty. Had it caught, every business house south of the public square would have been burned.

A Card.

Messrs. C. W. Metcalfe & Bro., Gentlemen, having been requested to give what I think of the Deering Binder purchased of you last year, will say it is with pleasure we give our opinion as to the working of the machine. We will state we had both machines, the Deering and the McCormick Binder, on trial and after giving them both a thorough trial in all kinds of grain and in all shapes, tangled, wet, heavy, and light, we must say in justice to the Deering Binder it did its work the best, was lighter in draft no weight on the necks, the machine working smooth making no noise and making perfect bundles and tying them tight, making them all the same size, making a complete separation of every bundle in down tangled grain as others failed to do in other words we do not hesitate to say to our former friends who are wanting a good and reliable Binder that will cut and save the grain without giving them any trouble, buy a Deering it is far the best machine we have seen in the market.
